Web Sites that Feature Classroom Resources

The Archives of Ontario Remembers: Our Canadian War Heroes

<http://www.archives.gov.on.ca/english/on-line-exhibits/gray/index.aspx>

The Archives site features a selection of primary sources, including the images, text, and audio clips of letters home from soldiers in World War I trenches.

Art and War: an Online Exhibition at the Canadian War Museum

http://www.warmuseum.ca/cwm/exhibitions/artwar/collections/collection_canada_e.shtml

Collections of war art from Australia, Britain, and Canada may be browsed here by country, artist, or theme.

See also the digital archive of images at Veterans Affairs:

<http://www.vac-acc.gc.ca/general/sub.cfm?source=activities/youthcorner/warart>

Canada at War <http://www.collectionscanada.gc.ca/veterans/index-e.html>

This is the portal to Library and Archives Canada's digital collection on the Canadian war experience. The comprehensive site includes links to information on several major conflicts that Canadians have been involved in, including the First and Second World Wars.

Canada Remembers <http://www.vac-acc.gc.ca/remembers/>

Part of the Veterans Affairs Canada website, the Canada Remembers program is the effort to remember the contributions of Canadians to war and peace in our past. The project includes an archive of the oral histories of veterans, and their war letters, diaries, and stories. Links to war memorials across Canada, the Canadian Virtual War Memorial, and other records of remembrance have also been gathered here.

Canadian Military History Gateway <http://www.cmhg.gc.ca/>

Includes a link to Learning Resources for teachers where suggested projects make use of the CBC Archives and the Veterans Affairs Canada website.

Canadian War Museum <http://www.warmuseum.ca/>

A Remembrance Day Toolkit for teachers is available under the Education link. Other teacher resources are featured in units that focus on Canada in the First World War and Democracy at War.

CBC. Remembrance Day. <http://www.cbc.ca/news/background/remembranceday/>

CBC Digital Archives: Lest We Forget http://archives.cbc.ca/war_conflict/veterans/topics/2700/ and more

The Historica Dominion Institute <http://www.historica-dominion.ca/en/programs> hosts The Memory Project: Stories of the Second World War and links to the Ontario Veteran Community Archive <http://www.ontarioveteranarchive.ca/>.

Heroes Remember <http://www.vac-acc.gc.ca/remembers/sub.cfm?source=collections/hrp>

The memories of ordinary Canadians are available here on video, with transcripts. These oral histories provide first-hand accounts of Canada's contributions in times of war and peace-keeping.

Library & Archives Canada Learning Centre <http://www.collectionscanada.gc.ca/education/>

Find teaching units and guides to using primary resources at The Learning Centre. The Military & Peacekeeping link leads to the "Now you be the historian" unit that leads students through an investigation of primary sources tied to World War I.

Peace and Conflict [Historica] <http://www.histori.ca/peace/index.do>

Lest We Forget Project <http://www.collectionscanada.gc.ca/education/cenotaph/index-e.html>

The Lest We Forget Project is a 3-4 week history unit based on the work of Smith Falls' history teacher Blake Seward. Students conduct primary research to learn about those whose names are recorded on the cenotaphs in their community.

The Memory Project <http://www.thememoryproject.com/>

The Memory Project is an archive of primary sources that includes brief recorded oral histories with transcripts and photographs of artifacts. Resources provided for teachers include comprehensive timelines and suggested lesson ideas.

Read Up On It: A Wish for Peace. <http://www.collectionscanada.gc.ca/read-up-on-it/015020-051000-e.html>

A resource list from the Library and Archives Canada that focuses on peace. All titles are Canadian.

Veterans Affairs Canada <http://www.vac-acc.gc.ca/>

The Youth & Educators link on this site leads to teacher resources that could be used K through 12. Veteran's Week educational materials are also available here.
