Finding What You Need Using the Library

QCAT – Find BOOKS and JOURNALS using the Library Catalogue

Journal Articles – Find academic ‘articles’ using journal indexes

RefWorks – Save ‘citations’ and build your bibliography

QCAT

Use QCAT to find BOOKS

Use QCAT to find specific journal titles (e.g. Canadian Journal of Political Science, Nature, Scientific American, etc.)

QCAT does NOT index individual journal articles, BUT DOES have 'tables of content' for many BOOKS...

Example:

Let's say we're looking for Books on the topic of 'democracy' and 'development'... and particularly those dealing with China...

Concept 1:

democracy

democratization

“representative government*” (note ‘truncation’ and quotes)

Concept 2:

development

developing

“third world”

Concept 3:

China

Chinese

MyiLibrary: Access e-books here

- The great thing about the e-book format is that they are accessible 24/7. To find the books search in QCAT by 'Title Exact'. Choose the record that indicates 'Electronic Resource'. Find the "Get It!: Access now" link. Alternatively, you can search for e-books from within a collection. A really good collection for Political Studies is MyiLibrary:
 - <http://library.queensu.ca/research/databases/record/3422>
- Note that you will be asked for your netid and password when accessing e-books from off-campus.
